The following text is extremely faint and largely illegible due to low contrast and high density of characters. It appears to be a list of legislative proposals or lobbying issues related to non-prime lending and predatory practices. The text is organized into several paragraphs, each starting with a bolded title. The first title is "Preservation of arbitration process for resolution of non-prime lending disputes". The second title is "House plans for legislation to establish uniform national standards for non-prime lending and the prevention of predatory lending". The rest of the text consists of dense, overlapping characters that are difficult to decipher.
