August 2, :

The Clerk of the House of Representatives
Legislative Resource Center
The Secretary of the Senate
Office of Public Records

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I am a totally frustrated small businessman who does some limited lobbying.

Per my previous correspondence, I spent nearly two days earlier this year trying to get the digital signature and all the complicated matters straightened out but I will need to hire outside professionals if I am to get this signed by digital signature. Thus, I am mailing my modest request to you. I have signed each page with an old-fashioned hand signature.

As you will note, I make very little money from lobbying and am not a big organization. In fact, I operate this activity from a lap top. It has occurred to me that the U.S. government designs most of these reporting requirements for big lobbying and law firms. I am merely a sole practitioner.

Please advise me: Am what I am submitting sufficient? Or is there a way that I can hand deliver it to you?

Sincerely,

Larry Pressler
