1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

1. The first step in the process is to identify the problem or issue that needs to be addressed. This involves gathering information and understanding the context of the problem.

2. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to define the objectives and goals of the project. This helps to clarify what needs to be achieved and provides a clear direction for the team.

3. The third step is to develop a plan or strategy to address the problem. This involves breaking down the problem into smaller, manageable tasks and determining the resources needed to complete them.

4. The fourth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the strategy into action and monitoring progress to ensure that the project is on track.

5. The final step is to evaluate the results of the project. This involves assessing the outcomes against the objectives and goals and identifying any areas for improvement.

Re: Senate ID # 28242-12

To Whom It May Concern:

We attempted to send our Lobbying Reports electronically in two different formats. We worked with our outside IT firm and thought we had been successful after numerous attempts.

Now, our IT people tell us that in reviewing our "sent" items it appears our forms did not, in fact, go through.

We are having a great deal of trouble with the new system and apologize for any delay. We are trying very hard to comply with the new system and will continue to work with professionals in order to achieve success.

Please accept our apologies and our paper copies of our forms. We don't know anything else to do until we can work through the technicalities of the new system.

Please let me know if anything further is required.

Sincerely,
