Basic Education

Coalition

MISSION: To raise the priority among governments, donor organizations, and the private sector for support of quality basic education for all as an essential means of promoting economic development and human well-being.

The members of the Coalition believe that basic education is a fundamental investment in reducing poverty and improving social well-being. Equitable access to and quality of basic education facilitates the range of development goals. Basic education:

- Enhances economic growth
- Advances social well-being by improving health and nutrition, reducing child labor, lowering the rate of population growth, stemming the spread of infectious disease and other health problems, and promoting equality between women and men
- Supports civil society, democracy, and political stability
- Promotes understanding, tolerance, and hope

The objectives of the Coalition are to enhance awareness and knowledge of the fundamental importance of basic education and to increase resources and commitment to quality education.

Coalition members have decades of experience around the world working with communities and governments at all levels to improve access to quality basic education. They have joined to maximize resources brought to this endeavor, to broaden the reach of their efforts, and to share experiences and lessons toward the common goal of enhancing investment in and understanding of the fundamental role of basic education.
